

HIGH-TECH

This high-tech kitchen, from luxury bathroom and kitchen retailer Urban Interior, has been designed to provide the perfect living environment within the contemporary domestic kitchen. The 'S1' kitchen, designed by leading German manufacturer SieMatic, combines cooking and social areas. The 'S1' kitchen uses a unique 'Smart Board' device that, using the most advanced technology, controls a complete multimedia system, so the user has total control. The 'Smart Board', which is located beneath the wall cabinets, contains touch controls that operate all electronic gadgets within the kitchen. These include the extractor hood, 17" flat screen LCD TV, the iPod docking system, internal and external temperature readings, and an advanced lighting system. As an extra, internet and email can be incorporated into the LCD TV. The 'S1' kitchen is available in a Truffle Grey gloss lacquer finish in addition to two wood tones (Velvet Oak and Sukupira Graphite) and Lotus White matt lacquer.

BEST OF BRITISH

Kitchens are a place to eat, relax and entertain family and friends; so it is essential that your kitchen is somewhere that you enjoy spending time. A traditional style kitchen helps to create a warm, inviting environment, and gives your home a truly British look.

The traditional country style can be created with high quality handmade furniture, such as this blue shaker breakfast pantry from Harvey Jones. Harvey Jones celebrates great British quality, creating stunning handmade kitchens here in the UK. The experienced designers and highly skilled craftsmen at Harvey Jones create kitchens to suit your individual needs, that are beautiful, unique and functional.

Harvey Jones Kitchens start from £17,000.

BOLD CHOICE

To add an interesting twist to a modern, streamlined kitchen, add a splash of colour with the GM Cucine Alexa range from Molten.

Available in seven vibrant colours including indigo blue, green, royal blue, orange, ivory, white and ruby red, as well as four wood finishes; beech, walnut, Daniela walnut, and light oak – you can create a bold and unique kitchen. Combined with matt finish laminate doors and an aluminium edging, this contemporary kitchen is sleek and daring.

The image here shows the Alexa range in ruby red combined with Daniela walnut.

CHIC BLACK

This classy modern kitchen, from Go Modern's collection of sophisticated Italian kitchens, beautifully mixes colours and textures. The chic blacks of the Black Gloss Laminate & Zebrano Kitchen are perfectly complemented by the natural Zebrano laminate and white Corian extending worktop/island; while the high gloss black surfaces contrast with the more natural Zebrano cupboards, creating a look that is both elegant and contemporary. Go Modern is fast becoming one of the UK's leading contemporary furniture retailers, combining luxury with longevity, and affordability with functionality.

BRIGHT WHITE

This striking white kitchen from Halcyon Interiors is the perfect choice for a modern space. Sleek lines flow uninterrupted around the glossy white lacquer kitchen, and white work surfaces, wall cladding, stools and lighting create a timeless look without feeling cold or clinical. The Alno Starline kitchen comes complete with a wealth of storage solutions and hidden appliances, creating a look of minimalistic elegance – the cooker hood retracts into the work surface when not in use and the hob sits flush on the work surface. Halcyon Interiors run the Alno Store – at the heart of kitchen design and with over 25 years of experience in the business, they have a full design and project managed installation service. All Alno kitchens are manufactured-to-order and are available from Alno premier kitchen retailers.

Prices from £15,000 for a medium sized kitchen (excluding fitting and appliances)
