

Plants of Special Interest Nursery

YOU ARE HERE | What's on > RHS shows > RHS Chelsea Flower Show > Show highlights > Urban gardens > The PSI Nursery Garden

BUY TICKETS

Urban gardens

Angus Thompson & Jane Brockbank

Chris Beardshaw Mentoring Scholarship Team, sponsored by Bradstone

Domoney

Fenchurch Advisory Partners

Helios

Help For Heroes

James May

Osonoe Garden Design

Plants of Special Interest Nursery

Sarah Eberle and Peter Dowle Plants and Gardens

Second Nature Gardens

Sekisui Exterior Co

Society

Witan Investment Trust

Other RHS shows

RHS Show Cardiff

Hampton Court Palace Flower Show

RHS Show Tatton Park

RHS London flower shows

Malvern Spring Gardening Show

BBC Gardeners' World Live

Malvern Autumn Show

The PSI Nursery Garden

Slideshow

View photos from the garden. Simply click on the large image below or a thumbnail in the list beneath to start.

Detailed view of the garden

Close-up of some of the detail in The PSI Nursery Garden.

Detailed view of the garden

Close-up of some of the planting detail in The PSI Nursery Garden.

Designer Jamie Dunstan

Sponsor PSI Nursery

Contractor PSI Nursery

View a plant list (Adobe Acrobat pdf)

Created for a fashionable, design-led couple, this garden fulfils their desire for a bold, colourful space that reflects their individuality.

It is an outdoor living area, a continuation of the interior of the house. This is shown by the influence of interior furnishings and décor on the garden, making a vibrant, sexy and unique garden.

It demonstrates that a stylish, modern garden doesn't have to consist mainly of hard landscaping and that a chic space can be achieved using lots of planting. This also is a bonus for wildlife and towards preventing surface runoff, which can lead to localised flooding.

Yew hedging forms a dark green backdrop to the garden, providing a foil for the rest of the planting. One side is screened by yellow-caned bamboo underplanted with Trifolium repens, while a golden-rain tree (Koelreuteria paniculata) stands at the other, also helping provide privacy. A key feature of the garden is the planting - which is flamboyant and richly coloured.

Anemone, Susannah Hunter

Venue

Royal Hospital, Chelsea, London

ADVERTISEMENT

Opening times

Tuesday-Friday
8am-8pm

Saturday
8am-5.30pm

Join the RHS

Join the RHS to enjoy Members' Days and discounted tickets at RHS shows.

Join now
Buy as a gift

RHS Prints

RHS Prints is exhibiting framed artwork from the RHS image collections on stand EW2 on Eastern Way

Find out more